There's a GTM crisis

it's time to shift focus

- Customer acquisition costs are rising
- The market is increasingly volatile
- Nurturing and retention are the new priority

Measuring intent: Unlocking data to drive retention

★ Customer intent is key – but only 53% of marketing decisions are data-driven (Gartner).

We can uncover signals with the help of:

- Zero-party data
 - Registrations, polls, surveys
- First-party data
 - On-demand views, repeat visits, engagement metrics

Now what to do with that data?

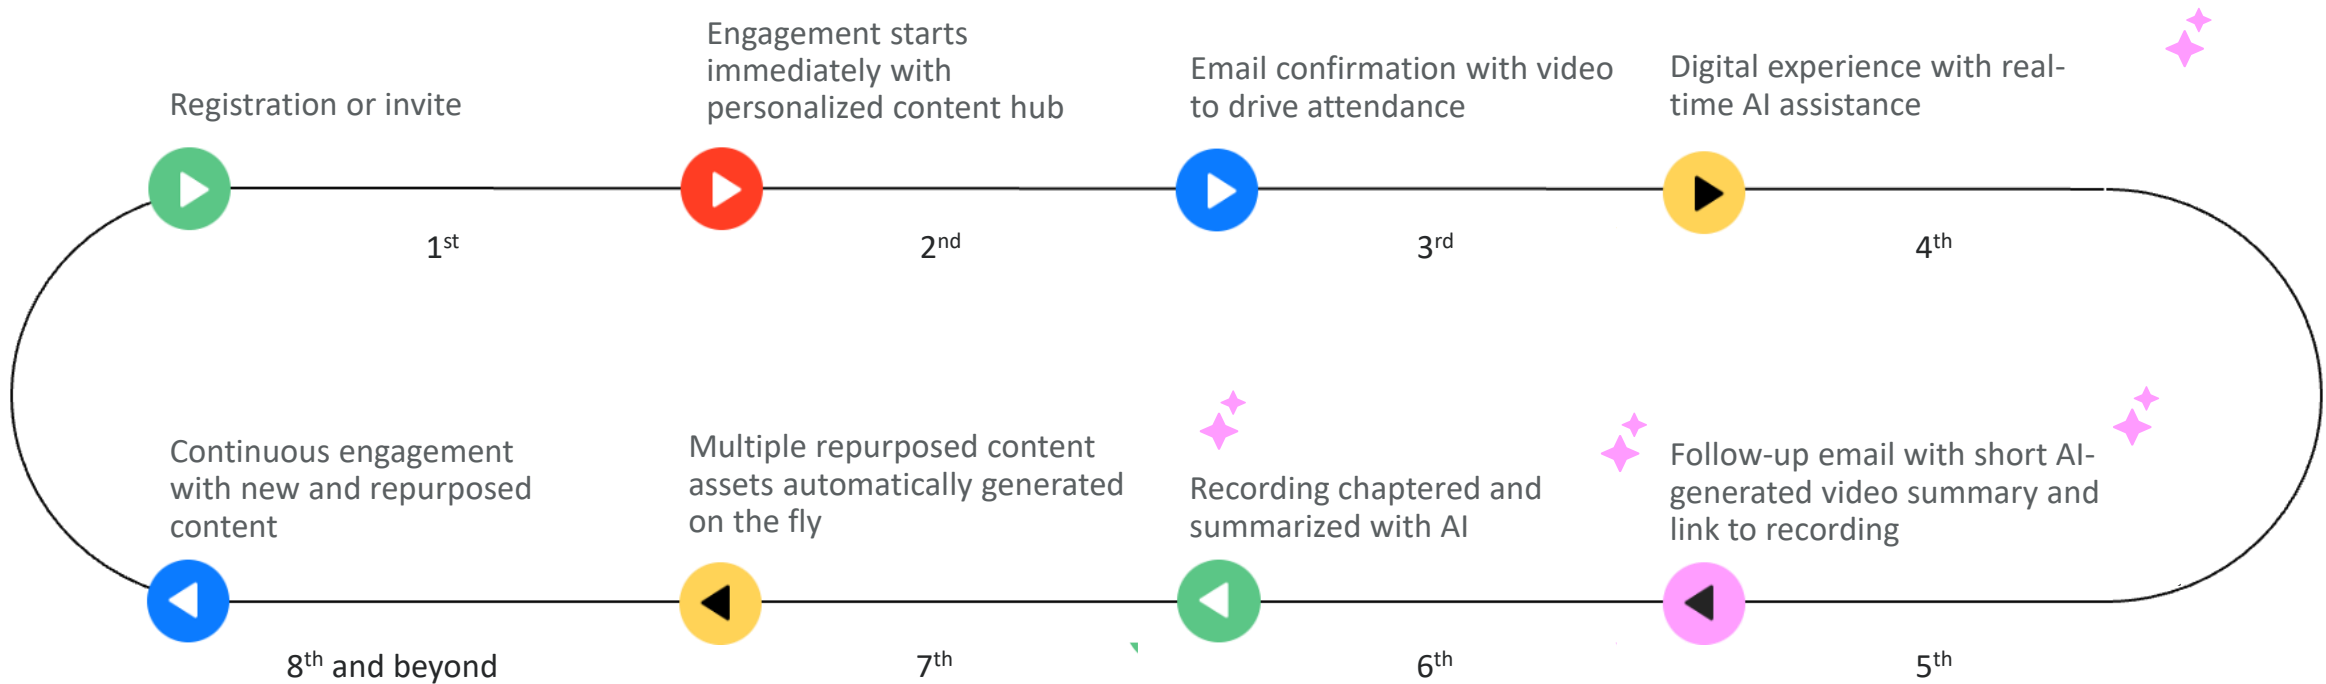

We need to match intent with the right messaging

Rethinking video as a retention tool

Create better, more personalized video experiences at scale to drive lasting customer growth

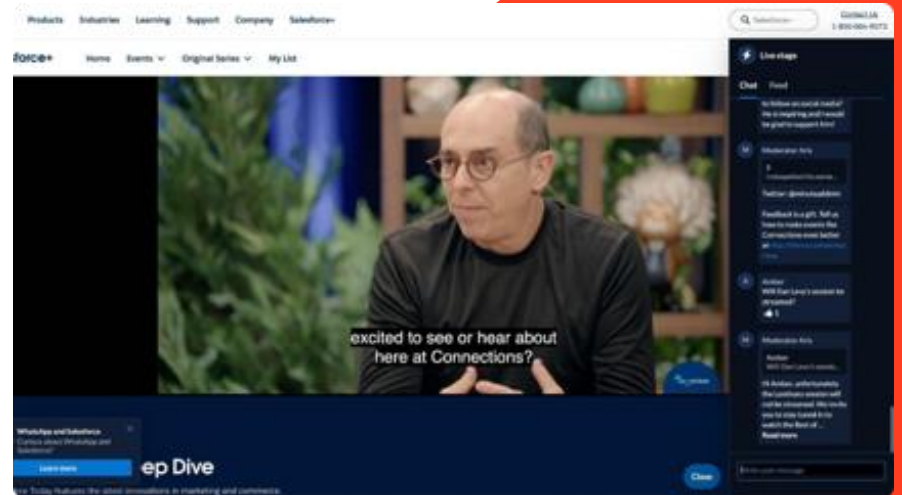

Engagement data from all touchpoints is displayed on Kaltura's analytics dashboard

Community building = Real business impact

Salesforce boosted engagement by 536% leveraging the right technology in their flagship events and online streaming platform.

The AI-powered retention playbook: next steps for marketers

3 Immediate actions:

- Start tracking zero and first-party intent data
- Use AI for personalized content and real-time engagement
- Build always-on engagement hubs for community and retention

AI isn't a magic fix—it's a tool that amplifies a strong retention strategy.
